Introduction

The situation of religious minorities in Pakistan remains deeply troubling, marked by systemic marginalization, discrimination, and escalating violence. As of 2024, these communities—comprising Hindus, Christians, Sikhs, Ahmadis, and Shia Muslims—continue to suffer severe human rights abuses. These individuals, essential to the social fabric of Pakistan, are deprived of their basic rights and safety.

The injustices they face are not just statistics—they represent the ongoing erosion of dignity, equality, and security. What exacerbates the situation is that many of these violations are either ignored or tacitly endorsed by the very institutions meant to safeguard them. Minority women and children are particularly vulnerable, enduring additional hardship due to their gender and age. These violations starkly contrast with the promises of equality in Pakistan's constitution, underscoring the gap between the country's legal framework and the lived realities of its minority populations.

This report sheds light on the atrocities faced by religious minorities throughout the year. However, the incidents detailed here do not represent the full extent of such atrocities, as numerous cases go unreported due to societal stigma, fear of dishonor, and intimidation by influential perpetrators.

Forced Conversions

One of the most harrowing issues facing minority communities in Pakistan is the forced conversion of women and girls. In 2024, over 1,200 cases of forced conversions were documented, with notable regional variation:

- Sindh: Nearly 850 cases, predominantly targeting Hindu girls from rural areas, often facilitated by local shrines and clerics.

- Punjab: Around 250 cases, primarily involving Christian girls, with urban centers like Lahore and Faisalabad seeing a rise in such incidents.
- Balochistan and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa: These regions collectively reported approximately 100 cases, involving both Hindu and Christian victims. The remoteness of these provinces often leads to under-reporting.

These incidents often involve the abduction, sexual assault, and forced marriage of minors. Disturbingly, many of these crimes are carried out with the complicit or indifferent support of local authorities, who either ignore the victims' cries for help or actively shield the perpetrators. Local religious figures, politicians, and shrine custodians frequently promote such conversions as religious acts, adding a layer of social endorsement to these violations. Moreover, the true scale of forced conversions is likely much larger, as fear of retaliation and a lack of trust in the justice system prevent many cases from being reported. The victims and their families are often pressured to remain silent, while perpetrators are celebrated as religious heroes within certain segments of society.

Blasphemy Laws

Pakistan's blasphemy laws have become a powerful tool of persecution, disproportionately targeting religious minorities. In 2024, the number of blasphemy cases surged dramatically, with a marked rise in arrests and imprisonments. By mid-2024, 767 individuals had been incarcerated on blasphemy charges, a sharp increase from 213 in 2023.

Provincial Breakdown:

- Punjab: 594 cases, accounting for the bulk of blasphemy charges.
- Sindh: 120 cases.
- Khyber Pakhtunkhwa: 64 cases.

- Other Regions:
- Islamabad Capital Territory: 2 cases.
- Azad Jammu and Kashmir and Gilgit-Baltistan: Data not specified.

The alarming increase in blasphemy cases highlights the abuse of these laws to silence dissent and target minorities. It underscores the urgent need for reform to ensure fair and just legal processes that protect the rights of all individuals, regardless of their religious beliefs.

Persecution of Ahmadis in Pakistan

The persecution of Ahmadis in Pakistan remains a deeply entrenched issue, driven by legal, social, and systemic discrimination. Designated as non-Muslims under the 1974 constitutional amendment, Ahmadis face widespread societal ostracism and violence. In 2024, the community witnessed escalated hostility, including targeted killings, arrests for practicing their faith, and the destruction of worship sites. In Punjab, mobs frequently desecrated Ahmadi graves and mosques, while inflammatory rhetoric from extremist groups fueled violence. Anti-Ahmadi laws further restricted their religious practices, barring them from identifying as Muslims or using Islamic symbols. This climate of intolerance has left the community marginalized, forcing many to live in fear and silence, undermining their fundamental human rights and freedoms.

Child Sexual Abuse

Children from minority communities in Pakistan are especially vulnerable to abuse. In 2024, thousands of cases of child abuse were documented, each one leaving a young life scarred.

According to Sahil, an organization dedicated to child protection, 1,630 cases of child abuse were recorded in the first half of 2024, including:

- 862 cases of sexual abuse
- 668 cases of abduction
- 82 cases of missing children
- 18 cases of child marriages
- 48 cases involving pornography

Of these, 59% were girls and 41% were boys, with the most vulnerable age group being 6-15 years. Abusers were primarily acquaintances (47%) or strangers (18%).

Regional Breakdown:

- Punjab: 78% of the total cases.
- Sindh: 11%.
- Khyber Pakhtunkhwa: 3%.
- Balochistan, Islamabad, Azad Jammu and Kashmir, and Gilgit-Baltistan: 2% each.

In addition, Sahil documented 1,732 cases of violence against women, including murder, suicide, abduction, rape, honor killings, and torture, further highlighting the dire need for effective protection and justice for both children and women in Pakistan.

Gender-Based Violence

Women from minority communities continue to face widespread violence and abuse in Pakistan, reflecting both their marginalization and the systemic failure to protect them. In 2024, a total of 5,112 cases of gender-based violence were recorded, with significant figures of murder, abduction, rape, and torture. The year saw 554 additional cases in December alone, pushing the total into even starker focus.

Breakdown of Gender-Based Violence:

- Murder: 1,273 cases
- Abduction: 799 cases
- Rape: 533 cases
- Torture: 579 cases
- Suicide: 380 cases
- Honor Killings: 112 cases
- Other crimes: 882 cases (including acid attacks and pornography-related offenses)

BREAKDOWN OF GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE IN PAKISTAN 2024

Regional Breakdown:

- Punjab: 73% of cases.
- Sindh: 15%, with high incidences of honor killings and suicides in rural areas.
- Khyber Pakhtunkhwa: 8%, with a focus on domestic violence and abduction.
- Islamabad Capital Territory, Azad Jammu and Kashmir, and Gilgit-Baltistan: Each contributing 2%.

These figures underscore the gravity of gender-based violence in Pakistan, particularly for minority women, who remain at heightened risk due to their vulnerable social position.

INCIDENT REPORT

PAKISTAN: BAR ASSOCIATION DIRECTS POLICE TO STOP AHMADI MUSLIMS TO FOLLOW THEIR RELIGIOUS BELIEFS

In the midst of a rash of lethal violence against Ahmadi Muslims in Pakistan, the Lahore High Court Bar Association directed regional police officials to take legal action against Ahmadi Muslims gathering, observing and praying during Muslim Eid celebrations.

In directives on 6 June 2024, the lawyer's association referred to laws that declare the Ahmadi to be Not-Muslims, used pejorative language (referring to Ahmadi as "Qadyanis"), and otherwise adopted positions that have been taken by numerous extremist Mullahs and Clerics that have incited violence in recent months. On 8 June 2024, two Ahmadi Muslims from Sad Ulla Pur were murdered following open threats by TLP Clerics.

Human Rights and Religious Freedom activists worry that directives from lawyers to persecute Ahmadi for peacefully practicing their faith will result in further violence.

"It is appalling that a Pakistani bar association should advocate, not for freedom of religion according to international legal norms, but rather for persecution of a peaceful religious minority," according to Dr. Aaron Rhodes, president of the Forum for Religious Freedom-Europe, which served to legitimate violence.

"We are calling for bar associations around the world to urge their Pakistani colleagues to help reduce religious intolerance and violence," he said.

According to the Universal Declaration of Human Rights Article 18, Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others and in public or private, to manifest his religion or belief in teaching, practice, worship and observance.

The United Nations and global human rights groups have long expressed serious concern over the poor treatment of Ahmadi in Pakistan which continues unabated.

In view of such hate-filled propaganda, there is a likelihood that Ahmadi would be deprived of fulfilling this fundamental practice associated with this event and many would have to face criminal prosecution just because of practicing their faith.

The Eid ul Adha Festival is going to be celebrated in Pakistan in the middle of June 2024 and, as the situation of Ahmadi living in Pakistan is precarious and Mullahs as well as police are trying to persecute them only because of performing their religious rituals, hence, once again we plead to the International Community to take urgent action to urge the Government of Pakistan to safeguard the civil and religious freedoms of Ahmadi and provide them with the safety and security in order to observe and practice their faith.

On July 13, 2021, UN human rights experts expressed their deep concern over the lack of attention to the serious human rights violations perpetrated against the Ahmadiyya community around the world and called on the international community to step up efforts in bringing an end to the ongoing persecution of Ahmadi.

We once again urge the international community to pressure the Government of Pakistan to honor its responsibility to provide protection to all its citizens, ensure freedom of religious practice to Ahmadi, and bring perpetrators of such vicious attacks to justice. The Government of Pakistan must also bring its laws and practices in conformity with international standards as ordained by Article 2, 18 and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) Article 25, 26.

Conclusion

In 2024, religious minorities in Pakistan—Hindus, Christians, Sikhs, Ahmadis, and Shia Muslims—continued to face severe discrimination and violence, highlighting the gap between the country’s constitutional promises and the reality for these communities. Forced conversions, particularly targeting young girls, remain one of the most disturbing issues, with many victims subjected to abduction, sexual assault, and forced marriage. Local authorities and religious leaders often turn a blind eye, leaving victims without justice.

The misuse of blasphemy laws has also increased, with many individuals from minority communities falsely accused and imprisoned. These laws are being exploited to silence religious dissent, further deepening the vulnerability of minorities. Additionally, thousands of cases of child abuse and gender-based violence were reported, with minority children and women being the most affected. These victims face physical and emotional trauma, yet often receive little protection or support.

The state’s failure to act against these violations of human rights, along with widespread impunity for perpetrators, continues to leave religious minorities in a state of fear and helplessness. The government must take urgent steps to ensure justice, reform harmful laws, and protect these communities. Only through meaningful change can Pakistan fulfill its constitutional promises of equality, justice, and protection for all citizens.
